

2021 St Finley Estate Cabernet Sauvignon

California

About This Wine

The unexpected: the surprises, the bottles that interrupt unassuming weeknights with juicy, attention-demanding complexity. And it only took a few sips of the 2021 St. Finley—Hailing from vineyards in Santa Barbara and the Central Valley, this wine adeptly shows that boldly fruited, endlessly drinkable California Cabernets aren't confined to Napa and Sonoma. That point was driven home by our second and third glasses, which played perfect foil to the decadent meat on our plates.

Tasting Notes

Robed in deep ruby, the 2021 St. Finley Cab releases aromas of cherry, violet, lilac, cassis, and tobacco with a swirl or two. Each sip bursts with red fruit, underpinned by a graphite minerality and laced with silky tannins, softly textured and polished by a few years of cellar age. Today, it's approachable and delightfully versatile at the table—the best kind of unexpected.
